CAMP OUT AT BLUE FROG

Priyanka Singh tells you about blueFROG's lineup for the upcoming week which will have music fans salivating

Christmas has clearly arrived early for music fans in Mumbai. Starting from tonight and continuing till the first week of December, blueFROG has a killer performance lineup for music fanatics in the city. Tonight, you'll see one of the dubstep pioneers, Benga (above right), playing some of his hottest tracks. Fans who missed his gig at Sitara Studio last May, should not miss out on this opportunity to see him play live.

Three days later we have US alternative, electronic and post-rock band Mutemath (above left), a few days after they perform at the Delhi NH7 Weekender. The very next day, electronic music band Modeselektor, comprising Gernot Bronsert and Sebastian Szary, will perform at the venue. Modeselektor emerged out of the tangle of post-wall Berlin, monkey men with beats clenched between their teeth and ideas that would soon force music journalists to make up new words: bastard dancehall, euro crunk, acid rap, big bass techno, labstyle, happy metal and psychedelic electro. Electronic music fans who know that EDM is not the only genre that defines this massive umbrella of electronica, Modeselektor is an act that you must not miss.
